

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME

Disease Prevention

Through its Health Service the American Red Cross has begun a nationwide concentrated effort in co-operation with established organizations to reduce greatly the amount of preventable disease and physical defects found among the country's 100,000,000 population. Education is its most powerful tool. Special attention is devoted to children, and this picture shows a typical Red Cross welfare clinic where little ones are treated and mothers instructed in the proper care of them.

The Weeping Mice.

A friend of mine was engaged a cook lately, and inquired why she had left a certain place. "I couldn't stop there, madam," was the reply. "I don't mind rats, and I believe I'm economical, but in that house they were so saving that the very mice used to run about with tears in their eyes."

—London Daily Express.

Wanted to Remain Awhile.

Betty was looking rather poorly after several weeks' illness. Aunt Edith, who had not seen her since she was a tiny baby, after kissing her, turned to her mother and said, rather thoughtlessly: "My, how this she is! She looks as if a whiff of wind would blow her away." This must have worried Betty all day, for that night when she had finished all the customary "God blesses" in her prayer she added this earnest postscript: "And, please God, make me thicker, for I don't want to be blown away."

Exit Humorist.

While making a tour of the southern states, we were driving along a country road, when a farmer came walking toward us. One of our crowd, a humorist, thinking he would have some fun with the man, stopped the car, and taking a small satchel and a magazine, gave a ten-minute impression of Billy Sunday. When he had finished, the man looked at him a little queerly, put his hand in his pocket and gave him a card. On it were the words: "I am deaf."—Exchange.

Opportunity Gone.

While talking to a caller one day I was annoyed by the interruption of my four-year-old daughter who was trying to tell something exciting. I reminded her that it was impolite to interrupt me and went on with my story. When I had finished I turned to her, saying: "Now, Louise, what did you want to tell me?" She answered disconsolately: "I've lost my say now."—Exchange.

Queer Idea of Beauty.

Beauty makes use of strange ways for adornment in some lands. Many Japanese women adopt the singular habit of gliding their teeth. In some sections of India part of the teeth must be dyed black before a woman is thought beautiful. The Hottentot women paint the entire body in patches of red and black. In Greenland the women color the face blue and yellow.

Furniture Oil.

To renovate scratched furniture, mix together in a bottle equal quantities of the best salad oil and vinegar. Shake vigorously, then it is ready to use. Take a small pad or soft rag, dip it into the solution and rub well into the wood until all scratches have disappeared. Then polish with another soft rag. You will be delighted with the result.

They Will Fight Man.

It is said that in England the weasels sometimes hunt in little packs consisting of a dozen or more; and that there are well authenticated cases of their having resented the interference of man, promptly attacking the latter, and absolutely placing him in danger of his life, says the American Forestry Magazine, Washington, D. C.

Saw Value of Good Roads.

The first man to recognize the importance of roads in relation to civic progress was Lord Francis Bacon. He wrote 300 years ago that three elements were necessary to the growth of a community—fertile soil, busy workshops and easy conveyance of men and things from one place to another.

A New Cat Remedy.

"To keep cats off the seed beds," says House Chat, "bury a small bottle up to the neck and fill it with liquid ammonia." The old practice of burying the cat up to the neck in the seed bedding and keeping the ammonia for subsequent use is considered obsolete.—Punch, London.

Well to Know the Worst.

Thirty thousand years ago, says a weekly journal, the seas around England were at a higher level than at present. It is difficult to know what can be done about it, but it is just as well that the matter should be mentioned.—London Punch.

The Reform of Oneself.

To reform a world, to reform a nation, no wise man will undertake; and all but foolish men know, that the only solid, though a far slower reformation, is what each begins and perfects on himself.—Thomas Carlyle.

Take Wives' Surnames.

In some parts of Scotland the fishermen very frequently call themselves by their wives' surnames. Thus James Smith marries Mary Green. He calls himself, even in business affairs, "James Smith Green."

Capt. R. H. Bruce returned Saturday from a business visit to Atlanta, Ga.

WALTER L. MAIN'S CIRCUS COMING TO PASCAGOULA.

The big circus will be here Monday, Oct. 4, giving performances afternoon and night. An idea of the class of this attraction is conveyed by the following from the Martinsville (W. Va.) Journal, of recent date:

"Beyond a doubt the Walter L. Main shows are well worth allotting a day to their enjoyment. This was patent from the first view of the parade and further emphasized by the excellence of the exhibition this afternoon."

"The parade itself was composed of a great number of beautiful horses, as well as an extraordinary number of open dens with wild animals. Two bands furnished the entrancing circus march music that makes us all young again, and thoroughly imbued with the circus spirit. There were two calliopes, and some of the bespangled costumes were the best that have ever been seen here with any circus."

"The show of twenty-two numbers was good all the way through. There were acts to please every one. Funny clowns that kept one in good spirits all the while. Dainty equestriennes, who did some fancy riding was alone worth the price of admission. Fancy roller-skating, contortionists that tied themselves in knots and so on galore. The elephant act by Miss Dot Snyder, the only elephant woman trainer in the world, was greeted with big applause."

"But all the acts were good. There were so many of them, that it would be an injustice to give too much special mention to any one."

"Special mention, however, should be given to the reasonable price charged by this circus. For in these days of high prices it can be called a happy price. Sixty cents for adults with the war tax included, and half price for children. It makes it possible for the whole family to go."
